Black Friday Improv at the Warehouse

So sure, Thanksgiving is a time for family and togetherness and elbowing that old lady in front of you who just got the last discounted Nintendo Wii... and now it's also a time for improv comedy! So shake off your Tryptophan coma, come down off your Black Friday shopping rage, escape from the relatives who just won't leave by joining The Distracted Globe November 27 & 28 at 10:30 pm following performances of Elvis People. Come on... there's no football on at that time anyway!

All joking aside, Thanksgiving is also a time to remember how much we have, and to help out those who aren't as lucky. That's why $1 from every ticket this weekend will benefit Operation Santa Claus - an annual giving project of Mental Health America of Greenville County, that collects and distributes basic needs items to youth and adults being treated for mental illness. Or, if you want $1 off your ticket price, you can bring items for their drive. We will also be accepting additional donations for MHAGC. Wish list for men, women and children include the following items: socks, knit gloves and caps, stationery, and personal care items like toothbrushes, toothpaste, deodorant, hair brushes and combs, lotion, shaving cream and chap stick. And of course, no gift collection would be complete without stuffed animals, coloring books, crayons and candy! For additional information, visit www.mhagc.org. Come laugh for a good cause!

Performances are November 27 & 28 @ 10:30pm at The Warehouse Theatre

Improv Tickets are $5 (that's all you'll have left after Black Friday shopping anyway) Box Office
864-235-6948

The players include Traysie Amick, Rick Connor, Andy Croston, Jennifer Goff, Jared Johnson, Michele Labar, Anne Kelly Tromsness and Jayce Tromsness.
